

LEADING IN DIFFICULT POLITICAL ENVIRONMENTS

Leadership is challenging – even in the best circumstances. Using video from real-life board meetings, case studies, interactive exercises and group discussion, this workshop explores the challenges faced by local government leaders when politics reaches the breaking point and dysfunction reigns.

LEADERSHIP

CONFLICT

RESOLUTION

It examines the personal and organizational impacts of deep and protracted conflict, and in particular the effect on leaders when they become the focus of attacks. Learn how to recognize the warning signs of community unrest, gain insight into the leader's unique role, examine personal and organizational costs, discuss social media's role, and put the "fun" back in dysfunctional. Craig draws on his unique experiences in the national spotlight working for a celebrity Mayor who also became Governor.

Craig Rapp is a nationally known speaker and consultant. He has been a City Manager, an executive in two privately held companies, senior executive at a Regional Planning Council, the Director of Consulting for an International Association—and he has trained and performed Improv at The Second City in Chicago.

Craig offers other workshops including, 'Improv and Improve!', 'Refresh, Reboot or Reinvent?', 'Achieving Excellence: The Quest for a High Performance Organization' and many more.

Go to craigrapp.com for more information.